1. Introduction

The Water Services Code of Conduct (Customer Service Standards) 2024 (Water Code) requires persons who hold a licence for water supply services ~~(potable water or water that is not potable but is able to be treated by the customer to make it fit for humans to drink¹)~~ or sewerage services (licensees) to have a financial hardship policy (hardship policy) that has been approved by the ERA.²

The hardship policy must comply with these Financial Hardship Policy Guidelines for Water Services (Guidelines), unless the ERA approves otherwise.³

Section 2 of these Guidelines provides background information about the regulatory framework for hardship policies. It explains who must have a hardship policy and to whom a hardship policy applies.

Section 3 explains the process for developing, amending and reviewing a hardship policy.

Section 4 describes what matters must be addressed in a hardship policy.

¹ A holder of a licence for water supply services is only required to have a hardship policy if the water they supply is potable water or water that is not potable but is able to be treated by the customer to make it fit for humans to drink (Clause 5(1) of the Water Code).

² Clause 32(1) and (2) of the Water Code.

³ Clause 32(3) of the Water Code.

2. Background

2.1 Who must have a hardship policy?

Persons who hold a licence for water supply services ~~(potable water or water that is not potable but is able to be treated by the customer to make it fit for humans to drink⁴)~~ or sewerage services must have a hardship policy.⁵

There are two exceptions:

Supply solely to non-residential customers

A licensee is not required to have a hardship policy if it only supplies water services to non-residential customers.⁶

Licensees who supply water services to both residential and non-residential customers must have a hardship policy. Their hardship policy only needs to apply to their residential customers.

Supply solely to members

A licensee is not required to have a hardship policy if it only supplies water services to members of the licensee.⁷ For example, a co-operative that only supplies water services to the members of the co-operative is not required to have a hardship policy.

2.2 To whom must a hardship policy apply?

2.2.1 Financial hardship customers

A hardship policy must apply to residential customers who are experiencing financial hardship.

The Water Code defines financial hardship as follows:

financial hardship, in relation to a customer who is a residential customer, means being in an ongoing state of financial disadvantage in which the ability of the customer to meet the basic living needs of the customer or a dependant of the customer would be adversely affected if the customer were to pay an outstanding amount.⁸

Financial hardship may be caused by (but is not limited to) the sustained burden of one or more of the following factors:

- loss of the customer's or family member's primary income
- separation or divorce from a spouse

⁴ A holder of a licence for water supply services is only required to have a hardship policy if the water they supply is potable water or water that is not potable but is able to be treated by the customer to make it fit for humans to drink \(Clause 5\(1\)\(a\) of the Water Code\).

⁵ Licensees that hold a licence for irrigation or drainage services only are not required to have a financial hardship policy.

⁶ The definition of "financial hardship", in clause 3 of the Water Code, specifically refers to "a customer who is a residential customer".

⁷ The definition of "customer", in section 3(1) of the Water Services Act 2012, specifically excludes members of the licensee.

⁸ Clause 3 of the Water Code.

- domestic or family violence
- loss of a spouse or a loved-one
- physical and mental health problems
- a chronically ill child
- budget management difficulties because of a low income
or
- other unforeseen factors affecting a customer's capacity to pay, such as a reduction in income or an increase in non-discretionary expenditure.

A customer is the person to whom water services are provided, or who is entitled to the provision of those services.⁹ This will generally be the owner of the land. It may also be an occupier (e.g. tenant) if the occupier has a direct contractual relationship with the licensee.

The obligation on licensees to have a hardship policy is one of several safeguards included in the Water Code for customers experiencing financial hardship. These safeguards only apply to residential customers.

2.2.2 Protections for other customers

A hardship policy does not have to mention the protections that are available for customers other than those in financial hardship, but a licensee may opt to specify the assistance that is available to other types of customers.

The 2018 version of the Water Code included safeguards for customers – both residential and business customers – who are experiencing payment difficulties. The 2024 version of the Water Code removed the requirement for a licensee to assess whether or not a customer was experiencing payment difficulties. Instead, under the 2024 code, any residential customer may select to receive additional time to pay their bill or a payment plan. Business customers can also receive these protections if they notify the licensee that they are experiencing payment difficulties.¹⁰

¹⁰ Clause 29(1)(b). The licensee is not required to assess whether the business customer is experiencing payment difficulties.

3. Development, amendment and review

Clause 32 of the Water Code sets out the requirements for the development, amendment and review of hardship policies.

A hardship policy only has effect if it has been approved by the ERA.¹¹

Once a hardship policy has been approved, it is the licensee's responsibility to ensure that its hardship policy remains compliant with the Water Code and these Guidelines. A licensee must review, and if necessary amend, its hardship policy following amendments to the Water Code or these Guidelines. Any amendments must be submitted to the ERA for approval.

3.1.1 Initial hardship policy

New licensees must ensure that their hardship policy is in effect¹² within six months of the day their licence was granted.¹³

To provide the ERA with sufficient time to assess a new licensee's hardship policy, it is recommended that licensees submit their hardship policy to the ERA with their licence application or, if it is not ready by that time, within three months of the licence being granted.

When formulating its initial hardship policy, a licensee must consult with relevant consumer organisations.¹⁴

3.1.2 Review of hardship policy

A licensee may review its hardship policy at any time and must review it if directed to do so by the ERA.¹⁵ The ERA may, for example, decide to direct licensees to review their hardship policies following amendments to the Water Code or these Guidelines.

3.1.3 Amendment of hardship policy

A licensee may amend its hardship policy as a result of a review or otherwise. Any amendments require the ERA's approval.¹⁶

If a licensee makes a material amendment to its hardship policy, it must consult with relevant consumer organisations.¹⁷

3.1.4 Consultation on hardship policy content

Licensees must consult with relevant consumer organisations on the content of their hardship policy when they develop their initial policy or make a material amendment to their existing policy.¹⁸

¹¹ Clause 32(2) of the Water Code.

¹² A hardship policy only has effect if it has been approved by the ERA.

¹³ Clause 32(5) of the Water Code.

¹⁴ Clause 32(8)(a) of the Water Code. See section 3.1.4 for more information about consultation.

¹⁵ Clause 32(7) of the Water Code

¹⁶ Clause 32(2) and 32(4) of the Water Code.

¹⁷ Clause 32(8)(b) of the Water Code. See section 3.1.4 for more information about consultation.

¹⁸ Clause 32(8)(b) of the Water Code.

This requirement recognises the expertise of consumer organisations and the importance of involving them in developing a hardship policy that will assist customers. Consumer organisations, such as financial counsellors, have extensive experience in dealing with customers in financial hardship and may provide licensees with valuable insights on current issues affecting hardship.

A licensee may consult on its hardship policy in many ways. For example, a licensee could seek feedback by meeting with one or more relevant consumer organisations. Alternatively, a licensee may opt to conduct a telephone survey or send a copy of the proposed hardship policy to relevant consumer organisations with a request to provide feedback.

Licensees can support consumer organisations to provide feedback on a hardship policy by:

- engaging with consumer organisations on the manner and format of the consultation process to ensure that the process is appropriate for both parties
- ensuring that consumer organisations are given sufficient time to provide feedback on the licensee's hardship policy.

4. Content of a hardship policy

This section provides guidance about the information licensees must include in:

- their hardship policies
- or
- supporting information supplied to the ERA.

Some of the information requirements reflect obligations under the Water Code. These are identified in footnotes in the text below.

Although most information requirements must be addressed in a licensee's hardship policy, some requirements may be addressed in supporting information (such as a letter to the ERA). These requirements generally concern information that is not directly relevant to customers, but that affect how licensees deal with customers who are experiencing financial hardship (for example, staff training and consultation undertaken on the hardship policy). Not including this type of information in a hardship policy may help keep the hardship policy concise and easier for customers to understand.

Appendix A of these Guidelines contain a checklist summarising all the content requirements set out below. The ERA recommends that licensees review their hardship policies against the checklist prior to submitting their policy for the ERA's approval.

4.1 Alternative payment arrangements

When a customer has been assessed by a licensee and found to be in financial hardship, the licensee must advise the customer that the customer has the right to pay their bill under a payment plan or other arrangement (payment arrangement).¹⁹ The payment arrangement must be interest-free and fee-free and give the customer more time to pay the bill or arrears.

4.1.1 Usage history and capacity to pay

When setting the conditions of a payment arrangement, licensees must take account of the customer's usage history²⁰ and capacity to pay.²¹

It is important that any payment arrangement does not over or under commit the customer. A customer who has over committed is unlikely to adhere to a payment arrangement and may have their water supply cut off or restricted. In the case of under-commitment, the repayments may not be sufficient to cover the current debt, as well as expected future use of the service, which may result in the customer accumulating further debt.

4.1.2 Involvement of customer and/or financial counsellor

By the licensee involving the customer and, if applicable, the customer's financial counsellor in setting a payment arrangement, the arrangement is more likely to be appropriate for the customer's circumstances. A licensee may ask a customer, or financial counsellor, how much ¹⁹ Clause 33(2) of the Water Code.

²⁰ Only for bills for usage (clause 33(3)(b) of the Water Code).

the customer can afford to pay and determine a realistic payment arrangement based on the customer's individual circumstances.

Assessing a customer's current financial situation is a specialised, time-consuming task and often best suited to a financial counsellor. Where applicable, a licensee should take into account a financial counsellor's assessment of the customer's current financial situation.

4.1.3 Licensee to monitor payment arrangement

For the benefit of both parties, it is prudent that licensees monitor a customer's adherence to a payment arrangement. If the customer does not adhere to the terms of the arrangement, and does not contact the licensee to re-negotiate terms, the licensee is expected to make reasonable efforts to contact the customer before taking further action.

Customers who have had two payment arrangements cancelled because of non-compliance do not have to be offered another payment arrangement.²²

4.1.4 Revision of payment arrangement

Licensees must review a payment arrangement upon a customer's request. If the review indicates that the customer is unable to meet their obligations under the payment arrangement, a licensee must revise the arrangement.²³ For example, the licensee may agree to extend the duration of the payment arrangement and/or reduce the amount of the instalments.

4.1.5 Information provision

Licensees must have written information about the payment plans, arrangements and other assistance they offer to customers, and make this information publically available.²⁴

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include within its policy:

4.1A The alternative payment arrangements available to customers in financial hardship.

4.1B A statement that the licensee will take account of a customer's usage history²⁵ and capacity to pay when setting the conditions of a payment arrangement.

4.1C A statement that, upon the customer's request, the licensee will review and, where appropriate, revise a customer's existing payment arrangement.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee may consider including within its policy:

4.1D A statement that the licensee will involve the customer and, if applicable, the customer's authorised representative in setting the conditions of a payment arrangement.

²² Clause 34(3) of the Water Code.

²³ Clause 33(4)(b) of the Water Code.

²⁴ Clauses 34(4) and (5) of the Water Code.

²⁵ Only for bills for usage.

4.2 Reducing the amount owing

Licensees must consider reducing an amount owing by a customer that the licensee has assessed as experiencing financial hardship.²⁶ This requirement is not reliant on the customer making a request for a reduction of the amount owing.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include within its policy:

4.2A A statement that the licensee will consider reducing the amount owing by the customer if the customer is assessed as experiencing financial hardship.

4.3 Debt collection

4.3.1 Suspension of debt collection

Licensees must not commence or continue proceedings to recover a debt if:

- a customer is complying with a payment plan or other arrangement
or
- the licensee is assessing whether or not the customer is experiencing financial hardship.²⁷

Licensees must ensure that no debt collection occurs in these circumstances. The onus is not on the customer to request or initiate a suspension of debt collection.

4.3.2 Standards in debt collection

The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission's (ACCC) Debt collection guidelines for collectors and creditors explains the application of three Commonwealth consumer protection laws²⁸ that are relevant to debt collection. Although the ACCC's guideline does not have legal force, businesses that collect debts are encouraged to follow the guideline.²⁹

4.3.3 Outsourcing debt collection

If a licensee outsources the recovery of debt, the hardship policy must state that a customer's debt may be collected by a debt collection agency and whether this may result in additional fees for the customer.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include within its policy:

²⁶ Clause 33(4)(a) of the Water Code.

²⁷ Clause 36(1) of the Water Code. This clause lists two other circumstances under which a licensee may not commence or continue proceedings to recover a debt. They are where the customer has complained to the licensee or Energy and Water Ombudsman WA and the complaint directly relates to the charge to which the debt relates.

²⁸ Australian Consumer Law; Part 2, Division 2 of the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 (Cth); National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009 (Cth).

²⁹ ACCC and the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC), Debt collection guideline: for collectors and creditors, July 2017. Available at Debt collection guideline: for collectors and creditors \(acc.gov.au\)

4.3A The circumstances under which the licensee will not recover an outstanding debt from a customer in hardship. As a minimum, these circumstances must meet the relevant requirements of clause 36(1)(a) and (c) of the Water Code.

4.3B The licensee’s process for collecting outstanding debt, including:

- if applicable, a statement that the licensee may outsource the debt to a debt collection agency
- if applicable, a statement that additional fees may apply if the debt is outsourced to a debt collection agency.

4.4 Restriction and restoration

4.4.1 Restriction

If a customer does not pay their bill within 30 days after the bill is due, licensees may cut off³⁰ or reduce³¹ (together referred to as ‘restrict’) a customer’s water supply.³²

Prior to restricting a customer’s water supply, licensees must give the customer a written reminder notice and a written restriction notice.³³ The Water Code lists³⁴ a number of circumstances under which licensees may not restrict a customer’s water supply, including if:

- the licensee is assessing, under its hardship policy, if the customer is experiencing financial hardship³⁵
- or
- the customer is experiencing financial hardship and is complying with a payment arrangement.³⁶

4.4.2 Restoration

Licensees must restore a customer’s water supply if the customer has:

- paid the amount owing
- or
- entered into an arrangement satisfactory to the licensee for payment of the amount owing.³⁷

A customer’s water supply must be restored within the timeframes specified in clause 44 of the Water Code.

³⁰ A licensee cannot cut off the supply of water to an occupied dwelling unless the occupier agrees to that (section 95(3) of the Water Services Act 2012).

³¹ To reduce a customer’s water supply, licensees will fit a device to the customer’s meter that reduces the customer’s rate of flow of drinking water.

³² Section 95(1)(b) of the Water Services Act 2012.

³³ Clause 39(1) of the Water Code.

³⁴ Clause 40 of the Water Code.

³⁵ Clause 40(1)(c) of the Water Code.

³⁶ Clause 40(1)(d) of the Water Code.

³⁷ Clause 43(1) of the Water Code.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include within its policy:

4.4A A statement that the licensee will not cut off or reduce a customer’s water supply while the licensee is assessing whether or not the customer is in financial hardship, or while the customer is in financial hardship and is complying with a payment arrangement.

4.4B A statement that a licensee will restore a customer’s water supply if the customer has paid the amount owing, or if the customer has entered into a payment arrangement satisfactory to the licensee.

4.5 Written information

It is important that customers in financial hardship are aware of their rights and responsibilities. Licensees must therefore give a customer in financial hardship written information about:³⁸

- redirecting the bill free of charge
- the bill payment methods provided by the licensee
- applying for concessions to which the customer may be entitled
- seeking independent financial counselling or seeking advice from relevant consumer organisations
- applying for any other financial assistance to which the customer may be entitled including from Government-funded grant schemes.

This information must be included in a hardship policy.

4.5.1 *Redirection of the bill*³⁹

A customer may opt to have their bill redirected to another person, free of charge.

4.5.2 *Available payment methods*⁴⁰

The Water Code prescribes the minimum payment methods a licensee must offer a customer: Centrepay, internet, telephone and post.⁴¹

Centrepay is only available to customers who receive Centrelink payments. Centrepay may assist customers in financial hardship in the on-going management of their bills, as bills are paid through regular deductions.

4.5.3 *Concessions or other financial relief or assistance*⁴²

Concessions are available to people who hold an eligible concession card and are customers of the Water Corporation, Busselton Water Corporation and Bunbury Water Corporation (Aqwest).

³⁸ Clause 33(4)(c) of the Water Code.

³⁹ Clause 33(4)(c)(i) of the Water Code.

⁴⁰ Clause 33(4)(c)(ii) of the Water Code.

⁴¹ Clause 25(1) of the Water Code.

⁴² Clauses 33(4)(c)(iii) and (v) of the Water Code.

Customers of the Water Corporation, Busselton Water Corporation and Aqwest may also be eligible for a Hardship Utility Grant Scheme (HUGS) grant. The grant aims to assist customers in financial hardship to pay their outstanding debts and avoid water flow restrictions.

A hardship policy must, as a minimum, list any concessions and grants available. A hardship policy must also include any relevant eligibility criteria for such concessions or advise a customer where further information on relevant eligibility criteria may be found.

4.5.4 Financial counselling or advice from relevant consumer organisations⁴³

Financial counsellors offer free, independent advice to customers on possible ways to deal with financial problems.

A hardship policy must advise customers of the availability of financial counselling or relevant consumer organisations, and how to contact these organisations. For example, a hardship policy could include the contact details of a relevant peak body, such as the Financial Counsellors' Association of WA.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include within its policy:

4.5A The information specified in clause 33(4) of the Water Code.

4.6 Consultation with relevant consumer organisations

Consumer organisations, particularly financial counsellors, have extensive experience in dealing with customers in financial hardship and may provide licensees with valuable insights. The Water Code requires licensees to consult with relevant consumer organisations on the content of their hardship policy (see Section 3.1.4 above).

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include either within its policy or by means of supporting information:

4.6A A summary of consultation undertaken with relevant consumer organisations on the content of the hardship policy (including the organisations consulted and the manner in which they were consulted).

4.7 Additional hardship policy content

The paragraphs above require licensees to address the minimum safeguards afforded to customers in financial hardship under the Water Code in their hardship policies. The ERA recommends that licensees also address the following matters, either in their hardship policies or in supporting documentation provided to the ERA.

4.7.1 Training of staff

Licensees must provide training in hardship matters for front line staff (such as staff in call centres and credit departments), subcontractors employed to engage with customers experiencing financial hardship and field officers. As a minimum, training must be provided on the licensee's obligations under the Water Code. This includes, for example, obligations relating to payment arrangements, debt reduction and the provision of information.

Licensees can help ensure their training is appropriate by involving consumer organisations in the development of their training programs. Consumer organisations, as well as financial counsellors, can provide useful insights on how financial hardship affects customers, how to communicate with customers in financial hardship, and some of the main cultural and social issues to consider when dealing with disadvantaged customers.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include the items described below in its policy or in supporting documentation.

4.7A A short description of the training provided by the licensee to its staff.

4.7.2 Identifying customers who are experiencing financial hardship

If customers in financial hardship are identified before they accumulate substantial debts to the licensee the measures to assist the customer are more likely to be effective. Identification could occur by the customer, the customer's financial counsellor or the licensee.

To enable customers to self-identify, licensees can encourage customers in financial hardship to make contact by advising customers on (for example) bills, reminder notices and other correspondence, that assistance is available by contacting their licensee.⁴⁴

Licensees could also establish a process to actively identify customers in financial hardship. For customers who have a history of late payments, a licensee could establish a process to proactively contact them to determine if they are in financial hardship and eligible for any of the assistance available under the Water Code.

Licensees must try to assess whether a customer is in financial hardship within five business days of becoming aware that the customer is experiencing payment problems. If the licensee cannot make the assessment within that timeframe, the customer can be referred to a financial counsellor for assessment.

If an assessment is to be performed by a financial counsellor, the licensee could assist the process by providing the counsellor with any relevant information about the customer's financial situation (subject to privacy and customer consent requirements).

If a licensee performs the assessment, it would be prudent to take into account a financial counsellor's assessment of the customer's financial situation (if a recent assessment is available).

To assist their staff in identifying customers in financial hardship, licensees must have a set of indicators in place. Indicators could include one or more of the factors listed in Section 2.2 of these Guidelines.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include either in the policy or in supporting documentation:

4.7B The indicators the licensee uses to help identify customers experiencing financial hardship.

⁴⁴ Clause 13(2)(n) of the Water Code requires a bill to contain a statement advising the customer that the licensee can be contacted for assistance if the customer is experiencing problems paying the bill.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include within the policy:

4.7C A statement encouraging customers to contact the licensee as soon as they begin to experience financial difficulty.

4.7.3 Complaints handling

Licensees must have in place a complaints procedure that complies with clause 49 of the Water Code. Information about this procedure and relevant contact information must appear in the hardship policy.

When submitting a hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include in the policy:

4.7D Information about the licensee's complaints procedure, including the licensee's contact details and the Energy and Water Ombudsman's contact details.

4.7.4 Availability and accessibility

It is important that customers in financial hardship are aware of their rights and responsibilities. If a licensee actively promotes its hardship policy to customers, financial counsellors and other relevant agencies it will increase awareness of the existence of financial hardship assistance.

In addition, a licensee must ensure that its hardship policy is publicly available by:

- ensuring that any person may view, and download, the policy from the licensee's website at no charge
- providing a hard copy of the policy to a customer on request and at no charge.⁴⁵

The provision of interpreter services for non-English speaking people and communications technology for the hearing and sight impaired will help ensure all customers are able to familiarise themselves with the policy.

A licensee must provide a customer with a large-print version of the hardship policy at no charge upon request.⁴⁶

Using clear, simple and concise language will assist customers to understand the assistance that is available to them.

When submitting its hardship policy to the ERA for approval, a licensee must include either in the policy or in supporting information:

4.7E Information about how the licensee promotes its hardship policy to its customers and other relevant agencies.

4.7F The formats in which the hardship policy is available to customers (e.g. hard copy, electronic format, large print).

⁴⁵ Clause 32(6) of the Water Code requires a hardship policy to be publicly available. Also see clause 3 of the Water Code, which includes a definition of the term 'publicly available'.

⁴⁶ Clause 51(1)(c) of the Water Code. Also see clause 32(6), which requires a hardship policy to be made publicly available.

4.7G How the hardship policy is made accessible to customers with special needs (e.g. by including the licensee's telephone number for TTY and/or independent multi-lingual services within the policy).

5. Template hardship policy

To assist licensees, the ERA has prepared a template letter and template hardship policy. Appendix B contains a template letter to the ERA with prompts for a licensee to include supporting information, as set out in these Guidelines. Appendix C contains a template hardship policy with prompts to include the information set out in these Guidelines.

The ERA has prepared these documents for assistance only. Licensees are not required to follow their format and they are not intended to limit the form and content of a hardship policy or supporting information to be provided to the ERA.

Appendix 1 Hardship policy review checklist

Before submitting their initial or reviewed hardship policy to the ERA, licensees should review their policy and, if applicable, supporting information against the following requirements:

* Indicates the requirement may be addressed by means of supporting information rather than inclusion in a hardship policy.

Appendix 2 Template cover letter

The matters marked with an asterisk (*) in Appendix A may be addressed either in the hardship policy or by means of supporting information.

Below is an example of how a licensee could address these matters by means of supporting information in a cover letter. If a licensee does not address these matters by means of supporting information, it must ensure that they are addressed in the hardship policy itself.

Dear [...]

As required under clause 32 of the Water Code, please find attached a copy of [Name of Licensee]'s financial hardship policy for the ERA's approval.

Consultation⁴⁷

[Name of Licensee] consulted with [Name(s) of consumer organisations consulted] on the content of the hardship policy. [Licensee to describe how consumer organisation(s) were consulted]

Training

[Name of Licensee] is committed to the training of our staff in managing cases of financial hardship.

[Licensee to explain what training is provided to its staff on financial hardship and the groups of staff members this training is provided to. If applicable, the licensee should also specify which consumer organisations were consulted in the development of the training.]

Identifying customers who are experiencing financial hardship

[Name of Licensee] will actively work to identify customers experiencing financial hardship.

[Licensee to explain the indicators it uses to help identify customers experiencing financial hardship.]

Awareness and availability

[Name of Licensee] is committed to raising awareness of our hardship policy among our customers.

[Licensee to describe how the policy will be promoted to its customers and, if applicable, consumer organisations.]

Our hardship policy will be available on our website.

⁴⁷ Information on consultation undertaken only has to be provided for the licensee's initial hardship policy and for any material amendment to the hardship policy.

[Name of Licensee] Financial Hardship Policy for Water Services

[Month Year]

[Name of Licensee]

[Telephone number]

TTY [TTY telephone number]

 TIS [TIS telephone number]

1 Purpose

This Financial Hardship Policy outlines how [Name of Licensee] (“we”) will assist a residential customer (“you”) who cannot pay their [rate notice⁴⁸ / water bill⁴⁹] because of financial hardship.

[Our policy applies only to the water services portion of your rate notice.⁵⁰ If you are also having difficulty paying other charges on your rate notice or if you are a business customer, we encourage you to still talk to us.]⁵¹

[If you are a business customer, we encourage you to still talk to us.]⁵²

We are committed to working with you to find an appropriate payment arrangement that works for both you and us. We understand that it can be difficult to ask for support, and will treat you sensitively and respectfully.

2. What is financial hardship?

You will be considered to be in financial hardship if paying [the water services portion of your rate notice⁵³ / your bill⁵⁴] will affect your ability to meet your basic living needs⁵⁵ – in short, if you have the intention but not the financial capacity to pay.

Financial hardship may, for example, be caused by:

- loss of your or a family member’s primary income;
- separation or divorce from your spouse;
- domestic or family violence;
- loss of a spouse or loved-one;
- physical or mental health problems;
- a chronically ill child;
- budget management difficulties because of a low income; or
- other unforeseen factors affecting your capacity to pay, such as a reduction in income or an increase in non-discretionary spending.

3 Identifying customers in financial hardship

48 Applicable to Local Government Authorities.

49 Applicable to licensees other than Local Government Authorities.

50 This is because the Water Services Code of Conduct (Customer Service Standards) 2024 and our water licence only require us to have a hardship policy for any water services we provide to residential customers.

51 Applicable to Local Government Authorities.

52 Applicable to licensees other than Local Government Authorities.

53 Applicable to Local Government Authorities.

54 Applicable to licensees other than Local Government Authorities.

55 Clause 3 of the Water Services Code of Conduct (Customer Service Standards) 2024 defines financial hardship as “in relation to a customer who is a residential customer, means being in an ongoing state of financial disadvantage in which the ability of the customer to meet the basic living needs of the customer or a dependant of the customer would be adversely affected if the customer were to pay an outstanding amount”.

If you think you may be in financial hardship we encourage you to contact us as soon as possible. You may ask your financial counsellor to contact us on your behalf.

We will assess within five business days whether we consider you to be in financial hardship. If we cannot make our assessment within five business days, we will refer you to a financial counsellor for assessment.

As part of our assessment we will consider any information provided by you and, if applicable, your financial counsellor. We will also take into account any information we may have on your payment history.

As soon as we have made our assessment, we will advise you of the outcome.

4 Payment plans

If we determine that you are in financial hardship, we will offer you more time to pay [the water services portion of your rate notice⁵⁶ / your bill⁵⁷] or a payment plan [for this portion⁵⁸]. We will not charge you any fees or interest as part of your extension or payment plan.

We will involve you and, if applicable, your financial counsellor in setting a payment plan. When setting the conditions of the plan, we will consider your capacity to pay and, if relevant, your usage history.

If you ask us, we will review your payment plan. If our review indicates that you are unable to meet your obligations under the plan, we will revise it.

We do not have to offer you a payment plan if you have had two payment plans cancelled because of non-payment.

5 Debt reduction and collection

If you are in financial hardship, we will consider reducing the amount you owe us.

We will also not commence or continue proceedings to recover your debt:

- while we are assessing whether or not you are in financial hardship; or
- if you are complying with your payment plan or another payment arrangement you have with us.

If you do not comply with your payment plan or other payment arrangement, we may commence debt recovery proceedings.

A licensee should only include the following paragraph if the licensee outsources its debt to a third party: We may outsource your debt to a debt collection agency. Additional fees may apply in this case.

56 Applicable to Local Government Authorities.

57 Applicable to licensees other than Local Government Authorities.

58 Applicable to Local Government Authorities.

6 Restricting and restoring your water flow

A licensee should only include this section 6 if the licensee provides water supply services:

If you do not pay your bill by the due date, we may cut off or reduce your supply of water. We can reduce the flow of your water supply by fitting a device to your meter. We will not cut off the water supply to an occupied residence without your agreement.

We will not cut off or reduce your water flow while we are assessing whether you are in financial hardship. We will also not cut off or reduce your water flow if you are in financial hardship and you are complying with your payment plan.

If we have reduced your water flow, we will restore it once you have either paid the amount you owe us, or entered into a payment plan with us for that amount.

7 Useful information

- Redirection of [rate notice⁵⁹/bill⁶⁰]: We will advise you of your right to have your [rate notice⁶¹ / bill⁶²] redirected to another person free of charge if you are absent or ill.
- Payment options: You may pay your [rate notice⁶³/bill⁶⁴] by Centrepay, internet, telephone or post.

Centrepay is only available to customers who receive Centrelink payments. Paying by Centrepay may help you manage your bills more easily, as your bills will be paid through regular deductions.

For more information on your payment options, please [contact us / refer to your rate notice⁶⁵ / refer to your bill⁶⁶].

- A licensee should only include this item if concessions, financial relief or other financial assistance are available to the licensee's customers: Concessions and other financial relief and assistance: You may be eligible for the following concession(s) and/or financial relief for [the water services portion of your rate notice⁶⁷ / your bill⁶⁸]:

[Licensee to insert information on available concessions (including eligibility criteria) and financial relief provided for under the Water Services Act 2012 or any other available financial assistance (including from Government funded grant schemes). Alternatively, the licensee may advise a customer where this information may be found].

- Financial counselling: We will advise you of any financial counselling services or other organisations that may be available to you.

Financial counsellors offer free, independent information to help you take control of your financial situation.
