Amendments to the Western Australian gas retail market scheme

Decision

The Economic Regulation Authority has approved changes to the Western Australian gas retail market scheme. The scheme ensures that the gas retail market operates efficiently and fairly for market participants and their customers.

On 6 January 2025, the ERA received an application from the Australian Energy Market Operator (AEMO) to amend the gas retail market scheme as set out in procedure change proposal IN008/24. The proposal includes changes to remove some technical details and documentation from the WA gas retail market scheme, and to move these to AEMO's website where they can be more easily updated.

To make its decision, the ERA considered whether the proposed amendments complied with the requirements set out in the Energy Coordination Act 1994 and the Retail Market Procedures. The reasons for the ERA's decision are available on the ERA website.

These amendments will take effect on Monday 7 April 2025 as specified by the ERA in the Western Australian Government Gazette.
