Strike South Pty Ltd

Decision to grant electricity transmission licence ETL9

The Economic Regulation Authority has granted electricity transmission licence ETL9 to Strike South Pty Ltd.

Strike plans to construct and operate a transmission system that will transport electricity produced at its soon to-be constructed South Erregulla peaking gas power station to the South West Interconnected System. The power plant will be located approximately 280 kilometres north of Perth and 45km south-east of Dongara in the Shire of Three Springs.

On 16 January 2025, the ERA published the licence application for public comment. No submissions were received.

The ERA decision, ETL9 and the licence area plan are available on the ERA website.
